

Castledyke Curriculum Intent

Castledyke's whole curriculum intent aims to build pupils into empathetic citizens who celebrate diversity and inclusivity. We want children to be empathic and emotionally resilient with strong self esteem and understanding of what makes them a unique individual. Our PSHE curriculum is a pivotal part of this education, helping children to develop a strong sense of self and understanding of how they fit into and contribute to the world. We put a strong emphasis on emotional literacy, nurturing mental and physical health and keeping safe. Skills such as decision making, informed risk taking, self-regulation and good communication are a key focus.

Our curriculum teaches children how to create and maintain positive relationships that are respectful and safe. The information provided will be relevant and appropriate to the age and maturity of pupils. Units of learning are revisited and built upon each year.

All children are successful by <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Understanding what makes positive, healthy relationships.• Understanding emotion and how to regulate.• Developing high aspirations for now and future by exploring potential careers and jobs	All children are ready for lifelong learning by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Developing confidence• Developing independence and resilience• Being able to work in a team.• Understanding how to safely manage emotion and stress.
All children are respectful by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Developing kindness, empathy and compassion• Celebrating difference and inclusivity• Being aware of how the body changes over time.• Participating fairly in group discussion	All children are safe by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Developing an understanding of how to look after physical and mental health.• Understanding the importance of informed risk-taking.<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Understanding healthy relationships and managing conflict

